

ACLU

COLLEGE & COMMUNITY PROGRAM 2020

ACLU 100 YEARS

The ACLU National Advocacy Institute's College and Community Program will prepare college-aged participants for lifelong engagement in grassroots organizing, policy development, and legal advocacy. Participants will enhance their knowledge of civil liberties and social justice issues, plan campaigns around a priority issue, and join legislative meetings on Capitol Hill. Participants will also take part in a special, day-long Next Generation Conference and Gala to mark the 100th Anniversary of the founding of the ACLU.

Highlights include:

- Electives covering ACLU's issue areas, taught by communications experts, lawyers, policy advocates.
- Life-long connections and support structures with other young activists from across the country.
- Boosting political knowledge and campaign abilities, maximizing impact for the issues that drive you.
